

Welcome to AZ Pregnancy Help & Building Arizona Families' Adoption Program!

We understand that choosing to place your baby for adoption may be a difficult and emotional decision. Experiencing an unplanned or crisis pregnancy can bring its own host of emotions. Making a decision regarding you and your child's future can feel overwhelming and conflicted. We understand what you are going through. We opened our agency doors in 2004 and many of our staff member have personal adoption experience themselves. We wanted pregnant women in Arizona to have a local, licensed adoption agency that they could work with in-person.

We are excited and honored that you have decided to learn more about adoption. Educating yourself on making an adoption plan is going to give you a platform for which to stand on while making choices throughout your adoption journey. Throughout our website, which contains blog posts, testimonials, and access to our adoption podcast, you will find dozens and dozens of articles, interviews and information that will be helpful to you.

Personally, I believe in the adoption process, as I, myself was adopted. My birth mother chose adoption, just as you are choosing adoption for your baby. Since, my mother made this amazing choice for me, I was able to break away from the generational choices that had been made before me. I was the first in my generational lineage to graduate from high school, college and graduate school. When I reunited with my birth mother, I was given the opportunity to thank her, and develop an amazing relationship with her. We became the best of friends!

Hopefully, throughout your adoption journey, you will be able to trust and have faith in your adoption agency. Surrounding yourself with family and friends who are supportive of your adoption journey will help you feel confident in your choice. Remember that emotions can be strong and overwhelming and its okay to ask for help. Adoption is our passion, we are here for you because we want to be, and we know that you are here because you chose to be!

Thank you for considering adoption and educating yourself. Adoption is a beautiful choice!

Sincerely,

Kelly Rourke-Scarry
